

First Nation Public Library Week 2010

Celebrating Our Culture and Language

GRADE ONE BOOK GIVEAWAY PROGRAM ANNOUNCEMENT SHEET

On the flip side of this Help Sheet, you'll find an announcement you're welcome to use for media-related purposes. If you do, be sure to:

- add your name and contact information at the end;
- consult the Media Templates Help Sheet also included in your FNPL Week resource package for formatting advice.

If you have further questions about the Grade One Book Giveaway Program, please contact:

Kelly Crawford at Ontario Library Service-North:

1-800-461-6348, Ext. 210

kcrawford@olsn.ca

or

Patty Lawlor at Southern Ontario Library Service:

1-800-387-5765, Ext. 5108

plawlor@sols.org

First Nation Public Library Week 2010
Celebrating Our Culture and Language

The Canadian Children's Book Centre and the TD Bank Financial Group
Join Ontario's First Nation Communities
In Celebrating First Nation Public Library Week 2010

Children in Ontario's First Nation communities will participate in the Canada-wide TD Grade One Book Giveaway Program via their public libraries during First Nation Public Library 2010.

During First Nation Public Library Week (February 15-20), 50 First Nation public libraries will distribute almost 2,000 copies of Let's Go! The Story of Getting from There to Here for children to take home, read, enjoy, and keep.

Let's Go! The Story of Getting from There to Here will take you on an amazing journey across Canada. From snowshoes to ships, from horses to cars, from trains to planes, you'll soon discover all the different ways that you can get from place to another.

*Ed Clark
President and CEO
TD Bank Financial Group*

Preface from "Let's Go! The Story of Getting from There to Here"

Let's Go! The Story of Getting from There to Here is written by Lizann Flatt and illustrated by Scot Ritchie.

Delivering the TD Grade One Book Giveaway Program to Ontario's First Nation children involves several partners. The TD Bank Financial Group funds the program, The Canadian Children's Book Centre coordinates the program, Ontario Library Service –North ships the books to First Nation public libraries, and First Nation public libraries put the books into children's hands.

